To: OCLanguage

Our company has done scrutinized research in terms of the software solution that meets our translation agency needs. OCLanguage developers were responsive and opened for new ideas. As a part of our implementation was modification of the system functionality according to our vision of streamlining workflows. OCLanguage developers were keen on discussing every detail, even the smallest part of our vision in terms of the software solution we want to bring into our company. The solution itself turned out to be user friendly and easy to modify. In order to enhance the usability we went even further and translated the interface of the solution into Ukrainian language.

OCLanguage represents single platform for project, Customers and statistics data management, available via Web interface. It allows us to split translation projects into many documents and tasks, taking into account all peculiarities that one quote can represent. This comes along with automatized performers' data registration and update process. In addition, we benefit from system modification service available from OCLanguage developers, which has allowed us to adjust the system functionality to our company needs.
